

FLORIDA RESIDENCY DECLARATION FOR GRADUATE STUDENTS

For information regarding Florida Residency Reclassification, we recommend that you review the Residency Reclassification section of our website:

http://www.students.graduate.ucf.edu/Residency_Reclassification.

In accordance with state law, the College of Graduate Studies reviews residency reclassification requests for graduate students who were initially classified as non-Florida residents for tuition purposes.

The University of Central Florida cannot make exceptions to the guidelines set forth by the state. This includes exceptions for extenuating circumstances based on financial hardship.

A minimum of 3 documents must be submitted with the application. All documentation must be dated at least 12 months prior to the first day of classes for the term in which you intend to apply for reclassification.

The burden of proof is on the student to provide clear and compelling evidence that their residency in Florida is permanent and not incidental to enrollment at UCF.

If you will be a Graduate Assistant, Graduate Teaching Assistant or Graduate Research

Assistant for the University you will not be eligible to reclassify as a Florida resident for tuition purposes.

Students who hold F-1 or J-1 visas are not eligible for in-state tuition.

It is important to note that living in Florida for a year or longer does not automatically qualify a student for in-state tuition. Despite the length of time you attend UCF, you may never qualify for "Florida Residency for Tuition Purposes".

The Residency Reclassification Application and supporting documentation must be submitted on or before the last day of registration of the term for which Florida residency for tuition purposes is sought. Refer to the Academic Calendar within the appropriate term for registration deadlines.

Please direct all questions regarding residency reclassification to gradreclass@ucf.edu.

FLORIDA RESIDENCY RECLASSIFICATION FOR TUITION PURPOSES

A Florida “resident for tuition purposes” is a person who has, or a dependent person whose parent or legal guardian has, established and maintained legal residency in Florida for at least twelve (12) consecutive months preceding the first day of classes of the term for which Florida residency is sought.

- Residence in Florida must be a bona fide domicile rather than for the purpose of maintaining a residence incident to enrollment at an institution of higher education.
- To qualify as a Florida resident for tuition purposes, you must be a U.S. citizen, a foreign national in a nonimmigrant visa classification that grants you the legal ability to establish a bona fide domicile in the United States, a permanent resident alien, parolee, asylee, Cuban-Haitian entrant, legal alien granted indefinite stay by the U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services, or other qualified alien as defined under federal law. Other persons not meeting the twelve-month legal residence requirements may be classified as Florida residents for tuition purposes only if they fall within one of the limited special categories authorized by the Florida Legislature pursuant to section 1009.21, Florida Statutes (see “Qualification by Exception” below). All other persons are ineligible for classification as a Florida “resident for tuition purposes.
- Living in or attending school in Florida will not, in itself, establish legal residence. Students who depend upon out-of-state parents for support are presumed to be legal residents of the same state as their parents.
- Residency for tuition purposes requires the establishment of legal ties to the state of Florida. A student must verify that the student has broken ties to other states if the student or, in the case of a dependent student, his or her parent has moved from another state.
